

Hong Kong Maritime Week 2022

CILTHK Webinar: Cyber Risk Solutions to Marine Industry

As work sites globally fall victim to cyber attacks spreading through the supply chain, state governments, world industry leaders and cybersecurity experts have given supply chain security renewed and urgent focus.

The computer devices and systems used for logistics and shipping companies are unique because of cross country operations. Long-distance communication for monitoring equipment usually travels over private cellular networks – but the internet is disrupting this status quo. Devices are now becoming more interdependent as a result of being networked together.

In this session, Marsh will share the technological exposure in logistic industry, impact to logistic company when they suffer a cyber incident, the cyber coverage gap in traditional insurance policy and how cyber insurance can help to close the coverage gap.

Topics to be covered:

- Technology impact on the Marine Industry
- Cyber Loss Examples to Ship Owners and Logistics
- Cyber Self-Assessment Tool (CSA)
- Risk Transfer Solutions
