

Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) improves organizational health and is an enabler for organizations to cope with changes and continue functioning in a high-performance workplace culture. Logistics and transport is a male dominated industry where gender diversity at play would create an impact. Moreover, as globalization and technology advancement continue, the industry has increasingly become a choice of profession by women.

To facilitate women engagement in the industry, identifying and sharing company practices on gender diversity and inclusion are crucial. In this event, WiLAT invites reputable speakers for sharing their insights and best practices on promoting gender diversity and inclusion in Logistics and Transport Industries in Hong Kong. WiLAT will also present the findings of the Diversity & Inclusion survey during the event. Through this survey, the current state of D&I practices was collected from enterprises in logistics and transport. 12 representative enterprises with a total workforce of around 30,000 employees actively participated in this survey and showed a high degree of support at senior management level.
